THE CREAT DEAL IN PORK.

Excitement Still Reigns in the Provision Pit and Wild Rumors Afloat.

BUT LITTLE TRADING DONE.

The Bucket Shops Badly Burned-A Weaker Feeling in Both Wheat and Corn-General Market Quotations,

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, March 1 .- [Special Telegram to the BEE |-From long before 9 until 10:30 o'clock this morning the lower corridors of the board of trade were crowded with brokers, with outsiders, with settling clerks, and with boys and men of all sorts, and with all interests discussing the wild scenes of yesterday in the pork pit. To-day being the first of the month, and set apart for deliveries, the regular session did not begin until an hour later than usual. That hour was given over to the dissemination of the wildest sorts of rumors or to prognostications equally wild. Over in the big bucket shops which fringe the locality the gossip was equally as animated. It was rumored last night that Murphy, the richest bucket shop man here, whose partners are Dave Pulsifer and Riley, the pool seller, had "laid down." There was no truth in the report; but there was a mysterious lot of gossip going about the bucket shop men themselves. Three of the smaller concerns went broke, and Murphy is said to have dropped $50,000. His losses here to his local traders were upward of $100,000, but half of this was offset by winnings made out of the country trade, which shorted pork after it got up to $16.00. There was so big a crowd in bork at the opening that it was impossible for the little felegraph boys to dart in and out. For several minutes after the opening there was no trade at all. Sellers asked $18.00, buyers bid only $17.00. In the first five minutes there were a few trades made, first at $17.50, then at $17.70 up to $19.00. The motive in the nit to-day was apparently to relosses here to his local traders were upward motive in the pit to-day was apparently to re-store confidence—to settle the price at above $18.60 until the world gets accustomed to it and then, when that is done and tradling is active, to advance it a peg or two farther. At times to-day there was almost a cessation of tradling, and at other times the pit would crowd up with brokers packed as close as sardines, and the trades would cause the price to spring about between $18.50 and $19.00, with very little regard to fractions. After noon the bottom was $18.50. There were plenty of brokers to protect it at that figure in any quantity or in any sized lots. were plenty of brokers to protect it at that figure in any quantity or in any sized lots. But pork really needed very little protection. There were few sellers at 1 o'clock. The close was at $18.67½ for May, although the price within five minutes had been $19.00. Most of the purchases were supposed to be for the bucket shops, who had now begun to hedge. Lard and ribs were sparingly traded in. Wheat sold up to 78½c and down under 78c. The gossip was that the Cincinnati clique had tried to form a coalition with the other cliques which are long on wheat with a proviso that the whole speculations should be put into one man's hand. The attempt, it was said, had not succeeded. There were enormous clearances for the seaboard—over 520,000 bushels of wheat—and they caused the early strength, but the very warm weather and the bushels of wheat—and they caused the early strength, but the very warm weather and the promise of still warmer weather made sellers of everybody except the cliques. Ream, Jones, Cudaby, and Brega all taiked in a sell-ing mood. Hutchinson was the largest seller at the opening, but it didn't avail any.

STOCKS—The market was again dull and heavy throughout the greater part of the day. The opening was rather heavy, the majority of stocks being slightly under last evening's final quotations. There was a slight rally toward noon, but after that time a downward movement in Richmond & West Point and New England occurred, and a marked increase in the amount of business done was noticed. The most pronounced rally of the day occurred toward 20 clock, but toward the close the market again became Lefley and dull, the last prices generally being but little better than the lowest reached.

OMAHA LIVE STOCK.

Tuesday, March 1.

Cattle. The receipts of cattle were heavier to-day than for some time past. The buvers were well represented and bought liberally. Good light or pony built cattle were in good demand and sold strong. Coarse heavy cattle were not in as good demand and would not sell as well. There was also a good demand for butcher stock and the market was strong. Before the market closed everything of any account was sold.

Hogs.

The receipts of hogs were also heavy, there being very nearly three times as many in as there was resterday, but not as many as a week ago by 200 head. The market opened brisk and the buyers picked up everything offered in a short time. Good heavy and medium weight hors were stronger and the market reached a higher point they weather. market reached a higher point than yester-day. Light hogs were not as much sought atter and sold at about steady prices. Everything was taken, nothing being left
